Raymond A. Mohl Graduate Student Paper Prize

The Urban History Association, in partnership with the Journal of Urban History, is pleased to announce the Raymond A. Mohl Award for the best graduate student paper presented at the Ninth Biennial Conference of the Urban History Association in Columbia, South Carolina, October 18-21, 2018. The prize committee will seek submissions (not to exceed 25 pages, including notes) from full-time students on all aspects of urban, suburban, and metropolitan history. Entries must approximate the actual conference papers. The author of the winning paper will receive (1) recognition and a cash award of $150, which will be presented during the conference; and (2) an invitation to submit the award-winner manuscript to the Journal of Urban History for review for publication. Paper submissions should be emailed as an electronic pdf to each of the following prize committee members by September 4, 2018:

Roger Biles
Illinois State University
wrbiles@ilstu.edu

David Goldfield
University of North Carolina at Charlotte
drgoldfi@uncc.edu

Emily Remus
University of Notre Dame
eremus@nd.edu

Electronic submissions should be accompanied by a one-page CV; evidence of student status; and a cover sheet listing name, mailing address, telephone number, email address, institutional affiliation, and name of faculty advisor.
